2) Attempt any 1 from Q2 and Q3.

3) Each question carries 15 Marks

Q1. Case Study: The Media Revolution and Social Change

Media has played a vital role in shaping society by influencing public opinion, spreading knowledge, and connecting people globally. Its journey from print to digital has transformed communication patterns worldwide.

1. Print Media and Social Reform

The invention of the printing press by Johannes Gutenberg laid the foundation of modern mass communication. Printed newspapers and books promoted literacy and awareness.

In India, leaders like Bal Gangadhar Tilak used newspapers such as Kesari to spread nationalist ideas during the freedom struggle.

Impact:

- Spread of education
- Political awakening
- Growth of public debate

2. Radio and Television – The Mass Media Era

The 20th century introduced electronic media. Radio became popular for news and war updates, while television provided both sound and visuals, increasing its influence.

In India, Doordarshan expanded television reach across rural and urban areas, especially during the 1980s.

Impact:

- National integration
- Cultural exchange
- Entertainment and advertisements

3. Internet and Social Media – The Information Age

The emergence of the internet changed media from one-way communication to interactive communication. Platforms like YouTube and WhatsApp allow instant sharing of information.

Impact:

- Global connectivity
- Citizen journalism
- Spread of misinformation
- Decline in print readership

Case Situation

During a national emergency, information spreads rapidly on social media, but much of it is unverified. Traditional news channels try to correct false information, but audiences rely more on digital platforms. This creates confusion and challenges for media credibility.

Questions:

1. Explain the role of print media in social and political change. (5 marks)

2. How did television strengthen national integration? (5 marks)

3. What problems arise due to the rapid growth of digital media? (5 marks)

Q2. A) State the understanding marketing communication and explain key objectives of advertising. (8 Marks)

B) Discuss the key documentaries in Indian history and the role of prominent documentarians. (7 Marks)

Q3. A) Discuss the impact of Radio and Television on society and challenges facing Radio and Television. (8 Marks)
