He had fallen into a kind of helpless doze, when he was roused by the sound of footsteps on the road. For a moment his poor heart nearly choked him with its beating. They were the keepers. They had guessed where he was – with Mrs. Adis, his old friend's mother. He had been a fool to come to the cottage. Nearly losing his self control, he shrank into the corner, shivering, half sobbing. But the footsteps went by. The next minute Mrs. Adis stuck her head into the shed.

"That was the keepers', she said shortly. "I saw them go by. They had lanterns. Maybe it would be better if you slipped out now and went towards Cansiron. You'd miss them that way and get over to Kent There's a London train that comes from Tunbridge Wells at ten tonight."

'That'd be a fine thing for me, ma'am, but I haven't the price of a ticket on me." She went to one of the kitchen drawers. 'Here's seven shillings. It'll be your fare to London and a bit over,' For a moment he did not speak, then he said: 'I don't know how to thank you ma'am.' 'Oh, you needn't thank me. I am doing it for Tom.'

'I hope you won't get into trouble because of this.' 'There isn't much fear. No one's ever likely to know you've been in this cottage. That's why I'd sooner you went before Tom came back, for maybe he'd bring a friend with him, and that'd make trouble.' She opened the door for him but on the threshold they both stood still, for again footsteps could be heard approaching this time from the far south. 'May be it's Tom,' said Mrs. Adis.

To read a lot is essential. It is stupid not to venture outside the examination 'set books' or the textbooks you have chosen for intensive study. Read as many books in English as you can, not as a study but for pleasure. Do not choose the most difficult books you find, with the idea of listing and learning as many new words as possible : choose what is likely to interest you and be sure in advance, that it is not too hard. You should not have to be constantly looking up for new words in the dictionary, for that deadens interest and checks real learning. Look up a word here and there, but as a general policy try to push ahead, guessing what words mean from the context. It is extensive and not intensive reading that normally helps you to get interested in extra reading and thereby improve your English. You should enjoy the feeling which extensive reading gives. As you read you will become more and more familiar with words and sentence patterns you already know, understanding them better and better as you meet them in more and more contexts, some of which may differ only slightly from others.

In the world of handlooms, there are Madras checks from Tamil Nadu,ikats from Andhra and Orissa, tie and dye from Gujarat and Rajasthan, brocades from Banares, Jacquards from Uttar Pradesh, Daccai from West Bengal, and Phulkari from Punjab. Dull would he be of soul who could pass by

A sight so touching in its majesty;

This city now doth, like a garment wear

The beauty of the morning; silent, bare,

Ships, towers, domes, theatres, and temples lie

Open unto the fields, and to the sky;

All bright and glittering in the smokeless air.

Never did sun more beautifully steep

In his first splendour, valley, rock or hill;

Ne'er saw I, never felt, a calm, so deep!

The river glideth at its own sweet will:

Dear God! The very houses seem asleep;

And all that mighty heart is lying still!

They plan. They build. All spaces are gridded

Filled with permutations of possibilities.

The buildings are in alignment with the roads

Which meet at desired points

Linked by bridges all hang in the grace of mathematics. They build and will not stop.

Even the sea draws back and the skies surrender.

They erase the flaws, the blemishes of the past, knock off useless blocks with dental dexterity.

All gaps are plugged with gleaming gold. The country wears perfect rows of shining teeth.

Anaesthesia, amnesia, hypnosis. They have the means. They have it all so it will not hurt.

So history is new again. The piling will not stop.

The drilling goes right through the fossils of the last century.

But my heart would not bleed poetry. Not a single drop to stain the blueprint of our past's tomorrow.

In February 2026, India's Union Budget 2026–27 was presented with a strong emphasis on fiscal discipline and economic growth. The government announced a total expenditure of ₹53.5 trillion, with capital spending rising to ₹12.2 trillion. Key sectors such as manufacturing, textiles, electronics, and cloud infrastructure were highlighted as drivers of future growth. However, critics pointed out that while the budget focused on industrial expansion and global competitiveness, it did not directly address the unemployment crisis. India continues to face challenges in generating sufficient jobs for its growing youth population. Although schemes supporting MSMEs (Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises) and exports were expected to create employment indirectly, analysts argued that more targeted measures—such as skill development programs, rural job schemes, and direct employment initiatives—were missing. The Union Budget 2026–27, while ambitious, left many wondering whether India's youth will find enough opportunities in the near future.

The total income from the first two investment is 70 more than the income from the third.
$6x + 7y - 8z =$ _____(3)

$$D = \begin{vmatrix} 1 & 1 & 1 \\ 6 & 7 & 8 \\ 6 & 7 & -8 \end{vmatrix} = -16$$

$$D_x = \begin{vmatrix} - & 1 & 1 \\ - & 7 & 8 \\ - & 7 & -8 \end{vmatrix} = -28000$$

$$D_y = \begin{vmatrix} 1 & 5000 & 1 \\ 6 & 35000 & 8 \\ 6 & 7000 & -8 \end{vmatrix} = -24000$$

$$D_z = \begin{vmatrix} 1 & 1 & 5000 \\ 6 & 7 & 35000 \\ 6 & 7 & 7000 \end{vmatrix} = _____$$
